Muriel Anderson “Wonderlust” a must-see as well as a must-hear!

Muriel’s program “Wonderlust” includes visuals – moving and still images artfully compiled by brilliant photo-artist Bryan Allen. Sometimes whimsical, sometimes thought-provoking, always engaging. It is a musical journey through space and around the world, bringing together diverse cultures and settings, shining a gentle light on our common humanity.

The Story Behind It

When Muriel first encountered Bryan Allen’s work, she was amazed to find that his photo-art was saying the same thing as her music. They went on to create the 12-award winning Nightlight Daylight CD (including Guitar Player Magazine’s choice in the top 10 recordings of the decade). In the process they discovered that their artistic affinity extended to the heart. They combined their artistry in a live context. Bryan’s stunning visuals provide an insightful backdrop to Muriel’s music, accentuating the audience experience. The show begins with music inspired by space and the solar eclipse, and then brings you on a virtual tour around the world in music and imagery.

Hope For Kajiado Benefit making a difference in the life of orphaned children! Please bring children’s underwear or make a small donation.

Kajiado Children’s Home is an orphanage supported by Hope For Kajiado. It is located in the Rift Valley of East Africa, located 1.5 hours southwest of Nairobi, Kenya. It is a desperately poor area, with no paved roads other than a highway going through it.

For over twenty years, the home has provided loving care, shelter, medical and educational needs for children whose guardians died from HIV/AIDS or other diseases.

Children who grow up here become productive citizens, breaking the cycle of poverty and disease for their family. Interested in visiting Kajiado Children’s Home? A mission trip is scheduled for June 20-30, 2019. Contact us for more for info.
