

Sailing Dream 5/3/2021

I'd like to sail the world again,
Feel the wind above the waves
And live from day to day
Where life is not predictable
Wondering what is round the very next bay

I'd like to raise the sails again
Watching for the whales again,
And never have to say
I wish that I had done the things
That I can't do when I'm too old to play

To breathe again, love again,
Laugh again, luff again, In real life

[instr]

To stay alive despite the tides,
Worst of times, best of times,
Follow right behind
The mainsail is unfurled again
To be part of this world again, On my time

I'd like to pull the anchor in Sail to where I've never been,
With sunset on our lee
Awaken to the sparkles on the water
Then I'm feeling free

To jibe again, tack again,
I am now back again, In real life

I'd like to sail the world again, ooo,
I'd like to sail the world again
